ASKS CONFERENCE TO REMAIN ON JOB

President Wilson Practically Serves
Demand on National Industrial
Peace Meeting

INVITING DISASTER, HE SAYS

After Defeat of Collective Bargaining Resolution, Labor Group
Indicates it Will Leave

(By United Press.)

Washington, Oct. 22.—President Wilson today served on the national industrial peace conference a demand that it stay on the job until it finds a way of carrying on industries other than "in the spirit and with the very methods of war." Otherwise a national disaster is invited, he warned.

Written in the president's sick room in the White House the communication, a letter addressed to the "ladies and gentlemen of the industrial peace conference," was read by Secretary Lane immediately after the conference assembled, when indications were that the labor group had decided to withdraw because of the defeat of the proposal to recognize collective bargaining.

"Must suspicion and hatred and force rule us in civil life?" Wilson demanded.

"Are our industrial leaders and our industrial workers to live together without faith in each other, continue to struggle for advantages over each other?"

For the conference to break up without finding grounds for agreement would be the confession that domestic warfare cannot be ended at a time the nations of the world are finding a way out of international war.

Applause broke out following the reading and then quietness prevailed and eyes were turned to the labor group.

President Gompers asked permission for the labor group to withdraw for a private session. Following the reading, a resolution was introduced by Representative Sparzo asking the conference to vote to assure the president that it would not adjourn until it had accomplished its task.

The situation was tense as the delegates left the hall for a recess.

The president in the first paragraph of his message described the communication as a "word of very solemn appeal to you as Americans."

Secretary Lane then called the public and employers group into session and adjourned until 2:30 p. m. President Wilson today sought information on the state of affairs in the industrial conference, it was learned at the white house.

Mrs. Wilson telephoned to Secretary Tumulty and obtained a full report from him. The president will keep in close touch with all proceeding in the hope to prevent a dissolution of the conference.

Should the session end now conditions will be worse than if the conference never had been summoned, is the opinion of administration officials today.

Radicalism will have been Continued on Page Two

Secy. Wilson Confers With Mine
Owners and Then With Miners

(By United Press.)

Washington, Oct. 22.—Secretary of Labor Wilson was closeted with coal operators for nearly two hours today after the miners were excused from the joint conference called to avert the strike set for November first.

Wilson met with the miners, delegates at 2:30 after which he reconvened the joint session.

SAW COMMANDER BOOTH DECORATED

Capt. and Mrs. J. A. Tench Have Returned From Eastern Congress of Salvation Army

REPORT MADE ON NEW FUND

Capt. and Mrs. J. A. Tench arrived home yesterday from attending the eastern congress of the Salvation Army in New York City. Capt. Tench today told of the wonderful accomplishments and growth of the Army during the war and described seeing Commander Evangeline Booth of the Salvation Army receive the Distinguished Service Medal from the United States government for exceptionally meritorious and distinguished service during the war. The resolution to confer this honor on Commander Booth was introduced in the senate by Senator James E. Watson of this city.

Capt. Tench said reports to the congress showed $14,000,000 had been collected in the eastern district alone to carry forward the work of the Army and that shortly a campaign would be started to raise $7,000,000 in the western division. The Army began its war work with a fund of $25,000 which was later augmented by $100,000 sent from headquarters in England.

CHEMICAL TRUCK ANSWERS 2 CALLS

Extinguishes Blaze When John Kennedy's Automobile Catches
Fire Tuesday Night

FIRE IN CIRCLEVILLE TODAY

The chemical truck from the fire station answered an alarm last night about ten o'clock, in response to a call from John Kennedy, stating that his automobile was on fire. The car was in Second street, between Harrison and Morgan streets, and by use of chemicals it was saved, with about ten dollars damage resulting. The oil caught fire and had not the department been summoned, a total loss would have resulted. Last Saturday night two machines were totally destroyed in Knightstown because of the lack of chemicals.

This morning about eight o'clock the chemical truck answered a call from Roll Richey, living in Circleville. Fire from a defective flue, set the roof on fire, but it was quickly extinguished by the use of chemicals. The house is owned by John Boyd, and the damage did not exceed $25.00.

MAY HOLD CONFERENCE

Des Moines, Ia., Oct. 22.—If the federal government will be unable to settle the threatened strike of coal miners, "we will have a conference of governors," Governor Harding announced today. The conference probably will be held at Indianapolis, the governor said.

SHOWS VALUE OF WORK TO BE DONE

Dr. W. A. Millis in Informal Talk
Points out Need of What Roosevelt Association Will Do

TO CURE WAVE OF RADICALISM

Most of Fund During Campaign Will be Devoted to Endowing a Foundation

Not enough people attended the Roosevelt memorial campaign meeting at the Graham Annex auditorium last night to warrant the speaker, W. A. Millis, president of Hanover college, in making a speech, and the meeting was called off after Dr. Millis waited almost an hour for an audience to gather.

In an informal talk, however, Mr. Millis pointed out the great need of the work which the Roosevelt Memorial association "will accomplish with the bulk of the fund which is being raised throughout the nation this week.

Leaders of the campaign in the county were not discouraged this morning, however, due to the lack of interest shown last night, because some encouraging reports have been received from the out townships to indicate that the same lethargy does not exist there as in Rushville.

Township chairmen were urged today to get their workers together and start the canvass, where active solicitation had not already been done, so as to close the campaign this week. It is also requested by school officials that every school child be given the opportunity to contribute to the fund.

As Dr. Millis pointed out last night, a very small portion of the fund to be raised will be used for building a memorial, but the most of it will be used to endow a Roosevelt Foundation which will carry on the great work which Roosevelt stood for so fearlessly during his life—a stronger and better Americanism. This institution will be devoted to work among immigrants so as to teach the foreigner just come to the shores of the United States the ideals for which the American people stand and the value of their institutions.

Dr. Millis said that he was alarmed at the wave of radicalism which is sweeping the country. He Continued on Page Three

PAYS $4 TO GET AUTOMOBILE BACK

Jesse Fisher of Near Falmouth
Leaves Car in East 11th Street
When He Runs Out of Oil

THE POLICE ARE NOTIFIED

The police this morning found a Ford touring car in the vicinity of Mrs. Pete Johnson's home, in East Eleventh street, and Chief of Police Wilfong took the machine in charge, and this afternoon Jesse Fisher, son of A. C. Fisher of near Falmouth, called for it, after satisfying Mayor Irvin that it was his property.

According to Fisher, he started home last night and ran out of oil and left the car, with the intention of coming after it this morning. The police were notified his morning by neighbors living in that part of town and the machine was taken in charge. A little difficulty arose between Fisher and Mayor Irvin, as a charge of $4.00 was made for "capturing" the car. Irvin explained that a garageman was sent for it.

After paying the money, Fisher was allowed to get his car out of the garage.

CORN PRICES FALL WITH HOG MARKET

Prediction is Made That This Year's
Corn Crop Will Not Equal
Half Price Last Year's

HOGS DROP AGAIN TODAY

Last Year's Corn Was $2.00 But
Now Will Not Bring $1.20 a Bushel—$8.00 Hogs Expected

The after effects of the rapid decline of the hog market are being discussed freely by farmers here. One of the things bound to result is that this year's corn crop will be worth no more than half as much as last year's crop because many are now predicting that it will not sell for more than a dollar where corn less than a year ago was bringing $2 a bushel.

Some new corn has already been sold in the field for as low as $1 a bushel and other corn has brought $1.25 in the field. The price of old corn is going down as an aftermath of the falling hog market, and farmers estimated today that it would not bring any more than $1.20 on the local market, if that much.

Hogs continued on the downward trend today. The market opened off 25 cents in Indianapolis and 75 cents under yesterday's closing price in Chicago. A week ago stock buyers and others who have been watching the market were talking of the possibility of $10 hogs, but now they have lowered their figure and say that hogs will be $8 before January 1, if not sooner.

One thing is certain—that fewer hogs are going to be fed in Rush county this winter than has been the case in many a year because farmers are not going to risk their work and money, they say, when there is no chance of the market being stable.

It is regretted that the hog market should take such a tumble at this time when Rush county will produce the biggest crop of corn in many years. In spite of what farmers regarded as handicaps this fall, the corn crop is turning out in splendid shape. Some fields are going to make as high as sixty bushels to the acre, it is estimated.

Corn husking is in full swing this week and the yields are beyond all the expectations of the farmers. Late last summer the story was going the rounds that the corn would Continued on Page Three

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 22.—The militia stationed in the Calumet strike zone will be demobilized soon in accordance with the arrangements made by Governor Goodrich and Adjutant General Harry Smith, over the long distance telephone today.

Adjutant General Smith is in personal command of the militia. It is planned to demobilize five soldiers daily from each company until the demobilization is completed. The work starts today or tomorrow.

ACCUSED OF PASSING
A STANDING HACK

Maurice Kirk Was to be Arraigned
This Afternoon For Violating
State Law

DENIES THAT HE IS GUILTY

Another arrest has been made for the violation of the new law pertaining to motor vehicles passing a school hack while loading or discharging school children, and Maurice Kirk was scheduled to appear in Squire Stech's court this afternoon on charges filed against him by Prosecutor Stevens. The affidavit alleges that Kirk violated the law on October 10, when he passed, and narrowly missed hitting a school girl, while the motor truck was loading.

Kirk, who lives southwest of Rushville, denies the charge it is said, but evidence obtained both by the driver and school teacher maintains the number of the automobile was taken, and the school girl stated that she knew the owner. The number as taken by the two persons, was sent to the secretary of state in order to confirm the girl's testimony. Township trustees are heartily in favor of the new law, and it is the intention of all of them to enforce it to the letter.

RED CROSS OFFICE IS OPEN EVERY DAY

Information About "Roll Call" May be Obtained From Recorder's
Office at Any Time

AN OFFICER ALWAYS THERE

Preparations are fast being completed for the Red Cross "Roll Call" which will open Sunday, November 2 and continue until November 11, Armistice Day. Officers of the Rush county chapter of the Red Cross are hopeful of enrolling all of the old members, together with many new ones.

Attention was called today to the fact that Red Cross headquarters are still maintained in the recorder's office in the court house, where Miss Nora Sleeth, vice-chairman for the "Roll Call" may always be found. Mrs. Harrie Jones, secretary of the Rush county chapter, is also at headquarters frequently.

Township chairmen for the "Roll Call" or auxiliary chairmen may call at headquarters for any information they may wish in regard to the "Roll Call." Membership fees may be left at headquarters or with any of the auxiliary officers in any township in the county.

Supt. Mahin Reports to Council
There is Enough to Run Plant
Three and Half Weeks

SEVERAL LOADS CANCELLED

Action Taken Because of Fire in
Coal Pile—Complaints Made
About Third Street

The city council met in a short business session last night, as there was not much of importance that came before the regular meeting. The usual claims were allowed and the financial condition of the city treasury was reported, and Superintendent Mahin stated that the work of building the addition to the water and light plant was progressing very well, considering the shortage of labor.

A petition was presented to the council by J. C. Walker, asking that he be given permission to move a small building formerly used as an office for the Pinnell-Tompkins Lumber Company, in First street, to 402 North Perkins streets. The council instructed the city clerk to issue a permit, after a thousand dollar bond was given. The I. & C. Traction company agreed to cut their trolley wires while the house was being moved.

W. T. Allen of the Central Union Telephone company appeared before the council, asking that the company be permitted to move its poles and wires in the west part of Rushville from the Shelbyville pike at Coles lane, north to an alley and then over to Spencer street, and then back to the Shelbyville pike, on First street. He stated that the city had a transformer on a pole east of Hodges branch which interfered with their lines, and made a noise on the wire. He also said that by making the small change it would eliminate a great deal of tree trouble.

Mr. Allen pointed out to the council that Rushville would benefit by the change as the service would be more distinct between here and Indianapolis. The council however refused to consider the petition.

Councilman Mauzy said that new steam header would have to be purchased at the water and light plant, and the council decided to advertise for bids. The piece of machinery will cost between $1,500 and $2,000 and bids will be received on November 18.

Superintendent Mahin was asked as to the amount of coal which the plant had on hand, and he told the council that the supply would last about three and a half weeks. The plant employees have been fighting a fire in the coal pile, and have it now under control, but such coal deteriorates about 50 percent in value. The subject was brought up on account of the threatened coal strike which is scheduled for November 1. Several car loads of coal were cancelled last week on account of the fire.

The brick paving which is now nearing completion in Third street, was the cause of a discussion for a Continued on Page Three

His extradition will not be demanded however, until all nations have signed the peace treaty, Bonar Law said.

People Called to See If True

Mrs. Tindal's Recovery Astonished Those Who Knew Her Condition.

"My recovery since taking Tanlae has been so remarkable that many people who heard about it didn't believe it, and called on me to see if it was true," was the statement made by Mrs. Melvin Tindal of Glasford, Illinois, when she called at Sutliff & Case's Drug Store, in Peoria, Ill., a few days ago.

"I couldn't get Tanlae in Glasford, and I've come twenty miles over here to Peoria to get it," continued Mrs. Tindal. "I'm as well and happy as when I was a girl, and my work taking care of five children and a seven-room house is just like play for me now."

"Not a single day passed for twelve years that I didn't suffer. I had stomach trouble so bad that nearly everything I would eat soured on my stomach and caused gas to form and rise up around my heart so I thought it was going to stop my heart. I suffered intense pain from cramps in my stomach, and after every meal I would heave for hours. I fell off in weight until I looked like a skeleton almost and could hardly drag myself around. I was actually ashamed of my appearance. I was so nervous that life was a burden to me for just any little noise out of the ordinary almost drove me frantic. I seldom had a good night's sleep, and often I was disturbed with bad dreams. About every other day I had an awful nervous headache, and my head would ache and throb terribly, and I would stagger if I tried to get up and walk across the room. I tried every known treatment, and I got so I thought it was no need to take any more medicine for it didn't do me a particle of good."

"But I'm thankful for a good friend of mine and for Tanlae, for at last I was shown the right road to recovery, and I'm pointing out this road to other people, and several already have gone that way and found health, too. I can hardly believe it when I look at myself—the way this Tanlae had helped me has been nothing short of remarkable. I'm enjoying health now, after twelve years of misery and I give Tanlae the whole credit. I've taken eight bottles and never have a sign of stomach trouble, indigestion, or with gas forming and affecting my heart. My nerves are calm, and those nervous headaches have stopped troubling me. My appetite is wonderful. I eat just anything I want and have gained twenty-four pounds. I sleep like a child and when I get up I feel fine. I simply don't know what it is to have an ache or pain, and I tell you I'm happy to be that way. Tanlae is the most wonderful thing in the world, and I want you to publish this statement and let the people know what this medicine will do."

Tanlae is sold in Rushville by F. B. Johnson & Co.; in Milroy by Dallas Copper; in Manilla by Geo. J. Inlow, and Arlington by Mrs. L. T. Davis.—(Adv.)

CONGRESS MAY CALL A FARMER CONFERENCE

Representative Dickinson Says Industrial Men Were Called in, But Farmers Were Neglected

INCLUDES ENTIRE FARM LIFE

Washington, Oct. 22.—Representative Dickinson of Iowa has introduced a resolution in the House requesting the President to call an agricultural conference in view of the fact that the industrial conference recently arranged in Washington by call of the President does not include the agricultural interests and the various elements of the country most concerned in agricultural production, including the consumers.

The resolution of Mr. Dickinson is a broad one and calls for a gathering which would be representative of the great agricultural interests of the country, of farm labor, of food producers and manufacturers of all kinds, and of consumers. The resolution sets forth a number of the reasons why such a conference is important and emphasizes the rapidly diminishing food supply of the country, the dwindling supply of farm labor and the movement of the population from the farms to the cities. It is Mr. Dickinson's idea not only that the grain raisers of the country should be represented but the stock raisers, cotton farmers and all the leading branches of the agricultural industry.

SAFEST METHOD IS NEW JAIL RULES RECEIVED HERE

Government Recognizes the Value of Tuberculin Vaccine in Immunizing Cattle

CAMPAIGN ON IN INDIANA

State Sanitary Board Will Co-operate With Agricultural Department to Fight Tuberculosis

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 22.—The finding of the United States Department of Agriculture that the application of tuberculin serum is the surest and safest method known of determining the existence of tuberculosis in cattle, is being pointed out by Dr. L. E. Northrup, state veterinarian, as further support of the Indiana Live Stock Sanitary Board's campaign for the eradication of tuberculosis among Indiana cattle, through the application of this test by trained and skilled operators.

Dr. Northrup points out that the existence of tuberculosis in cattle cannot be determined by the naked eye, except when the disease has reached the advanced and aggravated stages. A physical examination cannot go much further than a survey which might be deceptive. Dr. Northrup states, Many fine herds have been destroyed because of the undetected presence of a diseased animal whose condition might have been ascertained by the application of the tuberculin test, but failure to use such test permitted the spread of the disease and the destruction of the herd, in addition to the menace to the health of all who use milk products from these animals.

The Federal Government, through the Department of Agriculture, is co-operating with the Indiana Live Stock Sanitary Board in its effort to eradicate tuberculosis in cattle, through the application of the tuberculin test, and it is urging upon live stock men and herd owners the importance of protecting their animals against the spread of the disease, before it has infected the entire farm.

VENEREAL DISEASES CAUSE MUCH WASTAGE

Attention of Taxpayers Called to Fact That State is Spending $5,668,451.11 Per Year

PLAN CAMPAIGN FOR CONTROL

Attention of manufacturers, employers, public utility operators and other large tax payers is called to the fact that the state of Indiana is spending for the care of delinquents, abnormal paupers, criminals and insane, $5,668,451.11 per year or approximately $16,000 a day, and that "the venereal diseases are one of the principal causes of this wastage" is asked in a circular issued today by the Indiana State Board of Health. The board offers for distribution among working people a brief statement of the facts relative to its campaign for the control and eradication of the venereal diseases, and offers this statement, in quantities, free.

"One of the prime essentials of this campaign is the thorough enlightenment of the masses of the people as to the real facts," says the board's letter to the employers.

The object of the statement according to the letter, is to reach every mature person in the state. The appeal is directed both to those who may be victims of the disease as well as those who are called upon to contribute through taxes to the support of such institutional care as is required for the victims of the diseases.

State Board of Charities Issue Orders Whereby Charges Must be Filed to Hold Prisoner

MUST BATHE EVERY WEEK

Sheriff Must Keep Jail Inspected and Give 3 Meals—Tramps Can't be Held Overnight

In the future, officers of the law, railroad detectives and others must prefer charges against men they incarcerate in county jails.

This is a new ruling by the Board of State Charities, and notices were sent Sheriff Jones to this effect this morning, who in turn posted them and also distributed them to parties concerned.

In the past frequently a man was thrown into jail for the night and then when no charges were pressed against him, was released the following morning. The new regulations concerning the jails of Indiana, prohibit this. The jail rules as sent to Sheriff Jones are as follows:

Every person shall bathe when admitted and weekly thereafter.

Marking, defacing or littering the cells, walls or corridors, or injuring or destroying the jail property is prohibited.

Prisoners shall make their own beds, keep clean their cells, and perform such duties in taking care of the jail and keeping it clean and in order as may be assigned them.

Meals shall be served the prisoners at suitable and regular hours, three times a day.

The sheriff shall inspect the jail at least once every day, and shall see that it is kept clean and sanitary.

There shall be complete sex separation. Prisoners shall be classified and separated so far as the jails will admit.

No tramps or other persons shall be received without due form of law.

Squibb's Pure Spices

In the popular mind the sole value of spices lies in their property of imparting an agreeable flavor to food. Aside, however, from this well known virtue, spices are of great dietetic importance, so that their selection with a view of obtaining them of full strength and of a high quality deserves careful attention.

SQUIBB'S SPICES are selected by a botanical expert, and at once ground in special spice mills, great care being taken to prevent loss of the volatile oils upon which their value depends. Being absolutely pure and of unusual strength, they are economical to use, a small quantity going a great way.

We carry a complete line of these absolutely pure powdered spices, comprising: Allspice, Cinnamon, Cloves, Ginger, Mustard, Nutmeg, Paprika and Pepper. They are all put up in air-tight sifter-top cans, convenient for table use. Owing to their high quality they are used by discriminating people everywhere. A trial will convince you of their general excellence.

SOME 10 CENTS A POUND LESS

(By United Press.)
Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 22.—Continued drop in the price of hogs on the Indianapolis live stock market will be reflected on the retail market here.

With another decline today it was shown that the retail prices were from 3 of a cent to 10 cents lower today than on July 28 when the peak of the market was $23.50. The prices ranged from $12.50 to $12.75 today.

Ham is selling at 31 1/2 cents per pound today as compared to 42 1/2 cents on July 28. Also a drop in the price of pork chops and lard has been noticed.

Along the north side of Third street, across from the fire department, the drain is poor, and during the rains, water was not properly taken from the street, due to the fault of the gutter construction.

DEMOCRACY COMES HIGH IN GERMANY
Country is Learning That Elections are Costly Although She Has no Campaign Expense
EXPENSES TO BE INCREASED.

Berlin (By Mail).—Democracy comes fairly high in Germany. While she has no campaign expense laws like America, she is already learning that elections are costly as evidenced by a compilation of the costs for the national assembly and Prussian land assembly elections some months back. The expense against the government was more than 1,000,000 marks, while to the parties involved the expense was more than 6,000,000 marks.

These expenses are likely to be vastly increased when the elections for the Reichstag occur. So far, no definite dates have been set for these, but the present regime is striving hard to get the election postponed to next spring on the theory that elections this fall (or winter) would only make for fresh unrest.

Both the right and the left are massing funds, however, so as to make a strong campaign against the moderate regime, and the new tests will furnish one of the bitterest campaigns ever waged in Europe.

Give the world the once over

LISTEN, fellows, to some straight talk. Many a man when he gets to be 40, misses something. He may have lots of money, and a fine family but—

He never "got out and saw things". After he gets settled down, it's too late.

Every man wants to see the world. No man likes to stand still all his life. The best time to TRAVEL is when you're young and lively—right NOW!

Right NOW your Uncle Sam is calling, "Shove off!" He wants men for his Navy. He's inviting you! It's the biggest chance you'll ever get to give the world the once over!

The Navy goes all over the world—sails the Seven Seas—squints at the six continents—that's its business. You stand to see more odd sights, wonderful scenery and strange people than you ever dreamed of.

You'll work hard while you work. You'll play hard while you play. You'll earn and learn. You'll get, in addition to "shore-leave", a 30-day straight vacation—which is more than the average bank president can count on.

You can join for two years. When you get through you'll be physically and mentally "tuned up" for the rest of your life. You'll be ready through and through for SUCCESS.

There's a Recruiting Station right near you. If you don't know where it is, your Postmaster will be glad to tell you.

3 Million Dollars but-- It Bought MUSIC

No finer example of courage is known to the world of science than Thomas A. Edison's work in perfecting the phonograph. The skeptics rose in full chorus when he proposed a better phonograph, —an instrument "that could produce music as human as the artists who first gave it utterance."

Mr. Edison's experiments exhausted the entire field of research in sound reproduction. He built and rebuilt until his final, perfected model cost him Three Million Dollars.

And the result?

Ask some one who attended the Amy Ellerman-Fleming Sisters recital Friday Evening, October 3. There was the public proof. Miss Ellerman sang in comparison with the RE-CREATION of her voice by the New Edison. The Fleming Sisters Instrumental Trio played in comparison with the RE-CREATION of their art by the New Edison. And no one could distinguish the living art from its RE-CREATION.

If you love music, you will agree with Friday's (Oct. 3) enthusiastic audience:—The New Edison represents Three Million Dollars well spent.

Roosevelt's Americanism

Theodore Roosevelt, in whose memory a state-wide Americanization week is being observed this week, was a most insistent advocate of "one country, one language, one flag." He knew the perils of our age old policy in reference to foreigners. He realized that no alien could become a worth while 100 per cent American until he could understand our spoken word, and read our daily newspapers and our public school books. That was why he was so ardent in his advocacy of any plan that would serve to weld the immigrant to the land of his adoption. For here-in he felt, lay the secret of a broader, deeper devotion to the ideals for which this government was established.

"Who cares enough about it to fight for a polyglot boarding house?" repeatedly asked Roosevelt, after having compared the nation to a big family, for whose fire-side each and every member was at all times ready to repel invasion, to resent insult, and whose ties, he said, were the ties that must also bind together the people of America.

In connection with the disturbances in the Calumet district, in northern Indiana, it is reported that steel workers on strike had been in America six years and could not speak nor understand a word of English. How naturally he drifted into the following of the Bolsheviks and became an enemy to society, a non-respecter of law and order.

It is the present duty of this government to see to it that every immigrant lands on our shores is given opportunity to familiarize himself with our language and taught the meaning of our institutions, unless he is willing to avail himself of these he should be sent back to the land from which he came.

Americanization week in Indiana should mark the beginning of a new era and a more enlightened attitude toward those who are new among us, or who have been permitted to absorb the pernicious doctrine of traitors to government and enemies to society.

A fussy old lady, carrying the troubles of the world, recently entered an elevator in a big office building in New York. It was near the close of a trying day.

"Don't you ever feel sick going up and down like this all day long?" was her opening remark. "Yes'm," the boy replied. "Is it the motion going down?" she queried. "No'm," he managed to get rid of. "How strange!" she pondered. "Oh, then it's the motion going up?" "No'm, it ain't, neither," with petulance. The ear was brought to a sudden halt and the door banged open for her exit. "Then what is it, my good boy?" she inquired as she stepped from the elevator.

"Answerin' questions," he snapped at her as the door clattered between them.

Apropos The Sugar Shortage

Not knowing whether you will publish this communication or not, will risk a few lines, because as Uncle Green Wilson used to say, "It is time for every man, woman and child to stand up and say something in meeting."

I just finished reading what was said in yesterday's Republican on the sugar question and what will be said in this article will be based on actual experience of the writer.

There should be no shortage of sugar at this time in this country, for the reason, as you know, that about three weeks since, one of the officials of the Cuban government was in the city of Washington on official business and while there made this statement: "The warehouses in Cuba are at the bursting point, being filled with sugar, about all of which was owned by the American Refining company. And the excuse of the company was they could not get ships to transport the sugar to this country".

The writer has had more or less experience in the manufacture of sugar from beets for the last eighteen years. During these years was general manager in building and running a factory in the state of Michigan and during my experience have found the American Sugar Refining Company to be the most damnable trust on earth. It controls every pound of sugar produced in and shipped in this country and sets the price of it to the wholesalers and the jobbers all over the United States.

No stockholder in any of the sugar factories in this country can buy a pound of sugar from any factory which his money helped to build.

There is not even a jobber or wholesaler in this country can go to Cuba and buy a barrel of sugar, not even a pound. Sugar producers in Cuba sell to the American Sugar Refining Company all the sugar that comes to this country from the Island and bind themselves to sell to no others in this country.

The sale and management of the sale of all the sugar from beets and cane in this country is under the control of Henry Oxnard of California and he is under the absolute and iron bound control of this damnable sugar trust.

Beet sugar can be manufactured in this country and sold at a good profit to the manufacturer at a few cents a pound. Sixteen sugar factories in Michigan cost $5,500,000. Stockholders of these sixteen factories have been getting 16 1/2 to 17 1/2 percent on $25,500,000 for the last fifteen years.

We all had hopes that when the Republican party got control of the House and Senate relief would come to us all, but our hope has been blasted. Vilification and abuse never get men anywhere, political poltroons and demagogues have always and will always and ought always disrupt any party as long as the people elect none but politicians to office.

People are suffering all over the country while the senate is playing politics. We want business, we want it now, we should make demand for it now.

TRIES TO SETTLE CAR TURMOIL AT THE POLLS

Denver is Voting on Two Propositions That May Relieve and Decide Future Policy

SIX CENT FARE IS FAVORED

Denver, Colo., Oct. 22.—Turmoil over this city's street railway problem was to be settled in today's special election on two plans for fixing fares, the elastic fare plan and the service-at-cost scheme. Both specify an initial 6-cent fare with free transfers.

The people's choice is supposed to decide the future policy of the city council toward the street railway problem. A good sized vote was expected to be cast as interest in the question is general.

Under the service-at-cost plan the council would create a board of tramway control which would have control over expenditures and service by the street railway company. Returns would be limited to a fixed percentage on the "fair" valuation of the railway property but no guarantee to stockholders is provided for. Under the elastic fare plan fares would start at six cents but might be raised or lowered according to the relation of the company's revenue and expenses. If the company lowered fares a small additional earning on the valuation would be allowed. The cost scheme also authorizes the people to buy the plant at any time they vote to do so.

The elastic 6-cent fare plan provides that whenever the present wage schedule for employees is changed the rate of car fare should be changed accordingly.

Dorothy Dalton Here Tonight

Screen fans who remember the delight with which they viewed Dorothy Dalton in such triumphs of screen art as "Extravagance", "Other Men's Wives", and "Hard Boiled" will welcome the news that Miss Dalton is to appear in another Paramount Arterraft picture, "The Market of Souls", at the Princess Theatre tonight. The story is by John Lynch. Joseph DeGrasse was the director.

In "The Market of Souls", Miss Dalton plays the part of Helen Ames, a country girl who has been educated as a trained nurse and comes to New York to follow her chosen profession. Her introduction to the gay life of the metropolis is at a New Year's Eve revel at a fashionable restaurant—a scene which required the use of hundreds of extras and is one of the most lavish ever shown on the screen. There Helen meets Lyle and Temple Bane, two brothers as wide apart in character as the poles. Lyle, the unscrupulous one, wants her for her beauty and attempts to win her by force. In a quarrel Temple is blinded by Lyle. Matters finally adjust themselves in a manner that is as startling as it is gratifying.

What is the unknown quantity? Young folks in school and their elders who have not forgotten, will answer X, the thing one has to use to solve a problem in algebra.

What is the unknown quantity that solves the greatest of all life's problems? The elusive, alluring, mysterious X, without which nothing in life is worth the while?

The answer is found in the Corinne Griffith picture, "The Unknown Quantity," which will be seen in the Mystic theater today. O. Henry wrote the story from which the picture is adapted and he came as near to human nature as any writer of his day.

Miss Griffith, Vitaphone star, has a role of striking appeal in this feature. She is the daughter of a baker who was ruined and sent to prison as the result of a corner in flour. The son of the man who engineered the corner sought to make restitution to her with his millions, but she spurned both him and his wealth.

SCHOOL HACK DRIVERS EXEMPT FROM LICENSE

Those Employed by Township do Not Have to Take Out Taxi Driver's License

ALL OTHERS MUST PAY FEE

Drivers of motor hacks engaged in hauling children to district schools and who do not charge the children for this service, collecting instead from the township, and who also do not use their motor cars for taxi service, will not be required to take out a taxi-driver's license according to a new ruling by William Elder collector of internal revenue for the district of Indiana, in a letter this morning to County Superintendent J. R. Crawley.

Mr. Elder's letter regarding the matter, follows:

"Please be advised that where auto trucks are used for the transportation of school children and the operation of which is paid for by the township trustee and no fee is collected from the children, there will not be any license required.

However, if the party operating the truck for revenue receives compensation for transporting persons, then he will be required to pay the federal license and should apply for form 732 on which to disclose his liability."

A. G. Hendricks was delightfully surprised Sunday by a number of his friends at his home north of the city, the occasion being given in honor of his thirty-eighth birthday. At noon a delicious pitch-in dinner was served. The dining table was adorned with a bouquet of pink and white carnations, the same color scheme being carried out in the other decorations of the room. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. James Hendricks, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hendricks and family, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Steele, Mr. and Mrs. John Lewark and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lot Berkley, Mr. and Mrs. Albert F. Guard, Charles Lewark and family and Otto Gwinn and sister, Miss Gwinn, Mr. and Mrs. Griff Lewark, Mrs. Bert Cadell and son, Earl Lewark and Delbert Lewark all of Fortville, Ind.

A pretty church wedding was solemnized this morning in the St. Mary's Catholic church at nine o'clock, when Miss Marcella Coyne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Coyne was united in marriage to John G. Miller, living south of the city. The Rev. Francis Schaub performed the ceremony. Preceding the bride was the little flower girl, Miss Ruth Cauley, dressed in white organdie, and carrying a French basket of brides roses; the maid of honor, Miss Margaret Kelley, gowned in pink satin; the bridesmaid, Miss Henrietta Buheit, of Indianapolis, dressed in blue satin, and the best man, Arthur Berger of Connersville, cousin of the bridegroom.

Miss Coyne was gowned in a white georgette over white satin and wore a wedding veil caught in cap effect with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of brides roses.

At the close of the nuptial high Mass Miss Henrietta Talbert of Morristown sang "For You and You Only."

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was given at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Coyne, in North Sexton street. The bride's table was beautifully decorated in a French basket of white roses and a miniature bride and the smaller tables were similarly decorated. The out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Buheit and daughters Anna and Henrietta, of Indianapolis; Mr. and Mrs. Will Welsh and family, Samuel Kerr, Ambrose Kerr, Miss Margaret Kerr, Mrs. Pauline Kenan and Henry Berger and son Arthur and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Strack all of Connersville; Miss Katherine Coyne of Indianapolis, and Mrs. Al T. Simms, of Cincinnati.

Immediately following the breakfast the couple left on a short motor trip, the bride being dressed in a blue suit with hat and shoes to match. Upon their return they will be at home to their many friends in West Tenth street.

Mrs. Miller is well known in this city, having been a clerk in the Mauzy Company store for several years. The bridegroom is a prominent farmer of this county.

BUSINESSMEN OF 5 NATIONS MEETING

International Conference is Held by Men From France, Belgium, England, Italy and U. S.

AUSPICES U. S. C. OF C.

Trade Relations and Methods of Financing European Countries is Main Theme.

(By United Press.)

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 22—Businessmen of five nations met here today, bringing together in an international conference representatives of the governments and industries under auspices of the United States Chamber of Commerce. Delegations from France, Belgium, England and Italy comprised the foreign guests.

Working out plans for effective financing of European countries for development of trade relations between the hemispheres are the primary reasons for the meeting, according to David A. Skinner, assistant secretary of the Chamber.

Among the delegates from the European nations are: Guicciolo Marconi, father of the wireless telegraph; inventor Salvatore Tagiaviva, mayor of Palermo, Italy; M. Va de Yvere, Belgian minister of state; E. Van der Vel, president of Louvain University; Pellorin de la Touche president of the Compagnie Generale Transatlantique; Jean Clement, representing the French Minister of Commerce; Marshall Stevens member of the British parliament, and Bailie J. King, Glasgow, chairman of the National Light Castings association.

Commenting on the importance of the convention, Secretary Skinner said: "American manufacturers and financiers are conscious of the fact that it is up to the business men of America to provide an effective working plan for capitalizing the war-stricken allied countries of Europe, which, after all, is the great market of this country."

"It is remarkable to note the tremendous interest which has been aroused by this international conference. Every trade and industry in the United States is sending its keenest representatives. American business and financiers are realizing that their future depends largely on the speedy rehabilitation of Europe. With the prospect of an early ratification of the peace treaty there is now at hand great need for a system of financing European countries."

Secretary Skinner gave out the following list of foreign delegates who will attend the conference:

P., one of the founders of the Manchester Ship Canal, its first manager, and an authority on traffic, railways, dock and canals; Frank W. ## NO PROGRESS WITHOUT ORDER, SAYS GOODRICH

GOVERNOR PLEADS FOR ROOSEVELTISM SQUARE DEAL AS SOCIAL SAFEGUARD.

By James P. Goodrich, Governor of Indiana.

Someone has said that if you would sing him the songs of a people he could write a history of that people. Equally well might it be said if you tell the story of the monuments and memorials of a people you record much of the character and history of that people. That is true of America. Washington, Lincoln, Roosevelt typify America and American life and American history with far greater clearness than all the written pages of the historian, and we do well to meet here and perfect for Indiana an organization that is to carry forward the work of erecting, not only some permanent, visible memorial to this great American, but carry forward into American life the things for which Theodore Roosevelt stood.

It has been said that Theodore Roosevelt was an aristocrat in one sense of the word, but there was typified in the life of this man the culture of the East, the aristocracy of the South and the free life of the West, as it was embodied in the life of no other American of our own or former times.

Class-Minded Man Dangerous.

There are abroad in American life today sinister influences that would tend to denationalize our people. Among these influences is one that would separate us into classes. To me there is no more dangerous man in America today than the class-minded man, the man who conceives American life as separated into classes and who would by his teaching undertake to array class against class and group against group. I have no criticism of any man who seeks to advance the interest of the particular group to which he belongs, provided he does not place the interests of that group above the national welfare.

I think there is no single influence that tends to combat the idea of the class-minded man as the influence of the life and character of Theodore Roosevelt, who always stood for the "square deal." The capitalist and the laborer, the rich and the poor, the high and the low, stood alike before the impartial justice of his mind. The difficulty in our country today is that there is a feeling that the laws apply with unequal force to the different classes of citizens, that there is one law for those in power, those who have place and influence and wealth, and another law for those at the opposite end of our social and industrial life.

Law Must Be Upheld.

When the great Cardinal Richelieu lay dying one of his friends assembled around his bedside asked him what had been the secret of his power. He said: "Some say it is cunning, and call me a fox; others say it is courage, and call me a lion, but it is neither cunning nor courage, but justice that is the secret of my power." That was the thing above all others that appealed to the American people in the life of Theodore Roosevelt. They believed that they received at his hands a square deal.

We need to carry that ideal forward into American life if we are to combat the insidious work that is going on now in our country to array class against class, an attempt to teach people that they can advance the interest of their particular group as against the interests of the whole nation. We see this in the economic struggle that is going on between the working men and the capitalist class. And we must meet it, not by repression, not by force—although the law must be upheld—but by convincing everybody that at the hands of our government there will be meted out to everyone true and exact political and economic justice.

And so, when we carry on this work of establishing a permanent memorial to Theodore Roosevelt, in carrying forward in some form the ideals for which he stood in this country, we not only honor the memory of Theodore Roosevelt, but we contribute in the largest possible way to the future progress of the nation.

BRITISH PARLIAMENT REASSEMBLED TODAY

Irish Question is on the List of Policies for an Early Government Statement

IT WILL BE A BUSY SESSION.

(By United Press.)

London, Oct. 22. Parliament reassembled today after a two months vacation, and the opposing parties lined up for a strenuous fall session. Questioners were busy early and the occupants of the government "Front Bench" had a lively time at the hands of members who were chiefly interested in the result of the government's "economy campaign", the North Russian war and Premier Lloyd George's Irish trade and labor policies.

The Irish question was on the list for an early government statement. Lloyd George having promised a new home rule bill this session, and in any event some action must be taken soon, otherwise the 1914 bill becomes a law six months after the conclusion of peace. Definite action with reference to the coal industry is also imperative, and a fresh statement on the cabinet's trade policy is due.

National expenditure questions were expected to bring Chancellor of the Exchequer Austen Chamberlain into the limelight; members being uneasy over unofficial reports that the much-vaunted government economy had only resulted in an annual saving of from $75,000,000 to $125,000,000 which on a daily expenditure of $10,000,000 in excess of revenue was held to be inadequate.

Speaker J. W. Lowther took the Chair in the House of Commons at 2:45 p. m.

Friday night was a decided success. The sum of $120 was cleared.

Dr. and Mrs. K. Ruddell of Indianapolis and Dr. and Mrs. J. Holloway, of Knightstown were the Sunday guests of Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Walther.

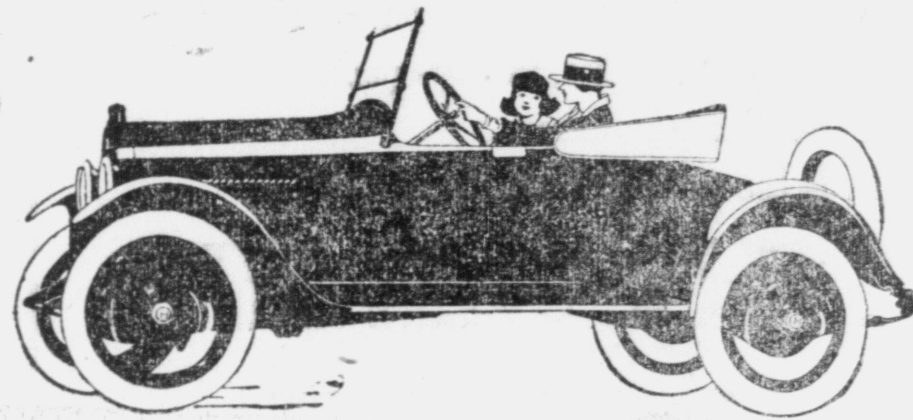

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Snider and family visited friends at Greensfork over Sunday.

Miss Leora Wright entertained with a six o'clock dinner party Sunday, the Misses Clara Reese and Helena Hughes, Herman Moore, Francis Billy and Roscoe Bean.

THE MOTHER

OF INVENTION IS NECESSITY

Now is the time to buy manure spreaders. If my friends will look over my stock they will become convinced that I am practicing what I preach, "Buy Now." My liberal stock proves my position. If you will investigate the RUSHVILLE SPECIAL Spreader you will understand how every machine is helping to sell more of them.

You can't afford to wait for improvements, because this spreader is years ahead of anything else right now, and it is your misfortune if you fail to get the benefit of this spreader this year. Prices are not going to drop, and it is hard to make the RUSHVILLE SPECIAL Spreader any better. No argument for delay.

The conveyor cannot clog or slip under the load. Notice from the cut the swinging sections how they empty and clean themselves. Nothing can lodge on the lower conveyor. It goes straight through to the ground.

If you will come to the store and look inside of this box you will find every section is raised slightly above the one ahead of it, forming a SAW-TOOTH grip that moves the load. This is our FORCE-FEED. Fifteen years from now, after the Litchfield Patents have expired, every other kind of conveyor will be a thing of the past.

What other spreaders will be fifteen years from now, the RUSHVILLE SPECIAL Spreader really is TODAY. Fifteen years from now all spreaders will be using the Bull-Dog Cylinder, the No-Choke Box—and a lot of our other exclusive features. I will tell you about these later. OUR SPREADER IS GUARANTEED FOR FIVE YEARS.

Big Lot of Hay Fever Jokes

But Kentucky Man Says—"People Who Belong to Hay Fever Colony are Kidding Themselves."

Wouldn't Be Any Rose or Hay Fever if Simple Home Remedy Was Given a Chance.

"Yes, there's a real NINETY-NINE per cent effective remedy for hay or rose fever," frankly states a druggist in a prosperous Kentucky city.

"But I don't expect anyone to believe me, because the treatment is so easy and the cost not worth mentioning."

"The annual crop of hay-fever jokes would be mighty scarce if people would get an ounce of Mentholized Arcline and by just adding water that has been boiled make a pint of liquid that will prove a real help to all who suffer."

"Many of my hay-fever friends tell me that by starting to gargle and sniff or spray the nostrils a few times a day the expected severe attack often fails to appear and in cases where it does show up is very mild and does not annoy."

"The Better Class of Pharmacists" who dispense Mentholized Arcline say it will greatly modify any attack even when taken three or four days after hostilities begin.

Go to a real live druggist when you get ready to make a pint.

7 A DAY FOR 7 DAYS

If Your Nerves Are Shaky Because of Over-Indulgence in Tobacco or Alcohol or by Excess of Any Kind, Bio-Feren is What You Need Right Away.

Don't grow old before your time, don't let nervousness wreck your happiness or chances in life. The man with strong, steady nerves is full of vigor, energy, ambition and confidence. You can have nerves of steel, firm step, new courage and keep mind by putting your blood and nerves in first-class shape with mighty Bio-Feren, a new discovery, inexpensive and efficient.

Men and women who get up so tired in the morning that they have to drag themselves to their daily labor will in just a few days arise with clear mind, definite purpose and loads of ambition. All you have to do is to take two Bio-Feren tablets after each meal and one at bedtime—7 a day for 7 days—then reduce to one after each meal until all are gone.

Then if your energy and endurance haven't doubled, if your mind isn't keener and eyes brighter, if you don't feel twice as ambitious as before, any druggist anywhere will return the purchase price—gladly and freely.

Bio-Feren is without doubt the greatest remedy for nervous, run-down, weak, rheumatic men and women ever offered and is not at all expensive. All druggists in this city and vicinity have a supply on hand—sell many packages.

Attention!

The rapid introduction of farm electric plants during the past few years has brought with it the important question of service.

"Service," it should be understood, means the expert attention to his electric plant which the owner may never need but which he can have on short notice if he ever requires it.

The average farmer looks at an electric light and power plant as more than a mere piece of machinery. To him it is a means toward an end, and that end is the furnishing of complete and dependable electric service on his farm.

The farmer is not an electrician and he doesn't want to be one. He is experienced with machinery and he knows how to take care of it, but he also knows that the best machinery in the world sometimes needs expert attention and he wants to know that there's an experienced mechanic within reach to give his electric plant attention if it becomes necessary. In other words he expects "service."

There are these two main things to be considered in the purchase of a farm electric plant: In the first place there's the matter of other users' experiences. With the great increase in the use of electricity on the farm in the last few years, there is scarcely a community in the country where electric plants are not already in use. It is quite easy, therefore, for the prospective buyer to make inquiry among his neighbors as to the satisfaction they are receiving from their plants. Where a particular make of plant is giving good service to large numbers of users, it is evidence of good design and workmanship in its manufacture.

The other thing to be considered—and it is equally important—is the matter of local representation of the particular plant in question. If there is an established representative of a plant in the community, prompt "service," if it is ever needed, is assured. Such a representative is in a position to "take care" of his customers.

The average farmer is a good and careful buyer, and will doubtless take into consideration the things mentioned here. If he does he can be assured of enjoying continuous and dependable electric service in his home.

TO DISCUSS NEWS PRINT SITUATION

Shortage of Timber Also to be Subject of Tri-State Forestry Conference Opening Today

SESSIONS IN INDIANAPOLIS

Officials of Forest Service Will Show Three States Face Exhaustion of Woodlands

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 22.—National interests were represented at the sessions of the Tri-State Forestry conference which opened here today for two days.

Discussion of the news-print situation and the shortage of timber, announced as the themes, brought delegates from all parts of the country. Governors Lowden of Illinois, Goodrich of Indiana and Cox of Ohio yesterday assured President Charles L. Pack that their states will be well represented.

Among the speakers were to be Prof. H. H. Chapman of Yale university, Dr. Wilson Compton, Chicago, secretary of the National Lumber Manufacturers Association; P. S. Ridsdale, secretary of the American Forestry Association; C. C. Pettis, superintendent of New York state forests and I. C. Williams, deputy forestry commissioner of Pennsylvania.

Richard Lieber, director of the department of conservation of Indiana, will be in general charge of the conference.

The importance of the conference to the people of Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, is strikingly shown by facts that will be presented by officials of the Forest Service of the United States Department of Agriculture. These officials believe that unless adequate measures are adopted the woodlands of three states will eventually be practically exhausted. The states will be urged to join in the national program of forest conservation that is being formulated to meet needs and conditions in every section of the country.

Lumber production in Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois has greatly declined in the last twenty years. In 1899 Indiana and Ohio each produced about a billion board feet of lumber. In 1918 each produced only about one-fourth of a billion board feet. In 1899 Illinois produced 375,000,000 board feet, but in 1918 the output had declined to 50,000,000 board feet. Much of the decrease is due to the fact that clearing for farming purposes was going on in 1899, but still it is not believed that the decrease in production should be as great as in the figures given.

Despite the inroads that have been made on the timber, each of the three states still has a large area—about 3,000,000 acres each—in farm wood lands. This represents between 10 and 15 per cent of the total farm area.

The logical thing to do, the federal officials believe, is to adopt such measures, in connection with a comprehensive national program of forestry, that the remaining woodlands will not be used up without provision for their reproduction and perpetuation, and to restore some, at least, of the timber that stood on the lands in the hilly and rougher sections that now are bare. There are considerable areas of such lands, unsuited for farming or other uses, that can be well placed under timber, and thus become a part of the national effort that is just getting well under way with the aim of preventing the United States from experiencing exhaustion of important domestic supplies of lumber and pulp-wood.

What has been done already in the formulation of the national program will be explained by Lieut. Col. Henry S. Graves, Chief of the United States Forest Service. Colonel Graves has explained the plan, so far as it has been developed, at three inter-state conferences in the eastern part of the country, and at a number of smaller conferences, and it has always met a favorable response. The vitally new part of this plan is that the federal and state governments shall join in measures to prevent privately-owned wood-

The above $5,000 offer has been made for the past twelve years every place where the Florence has been exhibited. It stands to reason that if any dealer or stove manufacturer could produce a stove that would do the work that the Florence will do they would not only have claimed the $5,000, but would have gotten the benefit of letting the people know what great stoves they have.

Why pay 25 per cent more for other makes of stoves which they claim are just as good as the FLORENCE HOT BLAST? Why buy other makes of stoves when you can save 25 to 35 per cent of your coal bill with a FLORENCE HOT BLAST?

lands, from being wantonly wasted or destroyed. How the states can work with the federal government in this endeavor will be explained by J. G. Peters, chief of the state cooperation work of the Forest Service, who also plans to show the importance of the wood-using industries in Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois to the general prosperity of these states. For instance:

In Illinois—620,000 persons are employed in industries, 140,000 of them in wood-using industries; the capital invested in all industries is $2,000,000,000 and in wood-using industries, $40,000,000; the value of products of all industries is $2,250,000,000 and of wood-using industries, $320,000,000.

In Indiana—265,000 persons are employed in all industries, 70,000 in wood-using industries; capital in all industries $675,000,000, in wood-using industries, $175,000,000; annual products of all industries are worth $730,000,000 of wood-using industries, $140,000,000.

In Ohio—600,000 persons are employed in industries 90,000 in wood-using industries; capital in all industries, $1,675,000,000, in wood-using industries, $160,000,000; annual products of all industries are worth $1,785,000,000 of wood-using industries, $175,000,000.

Of course much of the raw material for the wood-using industries comes from outside the states. That in some measure, is due to the present state of exhaustion of the woodlands within the states. The condition will become more marked if measures are not taken for the preservation of the remaining woodlands. If a national program is not adopted, the wood-using industries eventually will find themselves far removed from the source of their raw materials. In the end, the wood-using industries would have to get their raw materials wholly from Canada or other foreign countries, or they would have to go out of business.

The conference in Indianapolis is regarded by the federal officials as one of the most important in the series at which views and suggestions will be exchanged in the formulation of the new national program.

ASKS CONFERENCE TO REMAIN ON JOB

President Wilson Practically Serves
Demand on National Industrial
Peace Meeting

INVITING DISASTER, HE SAYS

After Defeat of Collective Bargain-
ing Resolution, Labor Group
Indicates it Will Leave

(By United Press.)

Washington, Oct. 22.—President Wilson today served on the national industrial peace conference a demand that it stay on the job until it finds a way of carrying on industries other than "in the spirit and with the very methods of war." Otherwise a national disaster is invited, he warned.

Written in the president's sick room in the White House the communication, a letter addressed to the "ladies and gentlemen of the industrial peace conference," was read by Secretary Lane immediately after the conference assembled, when indications were that the labor group had decided to withdraw because of the defeat of the proposal to recognize collective bargaining.

"Must suspicion and hatred and force rule us in civil life?" Wilson demanded.

"Are our industrial leaders and our industrial workers to live together without faith in each other, continue to struggle for advantages over each other?"

For the conference to break up without finding grounds for agreement would be the confession that domestic warfare cannot be ended at a time the nations of the world are finding a way out of international war.

Applause broke out following the reading and then quietness prevailed and eyes were turned to the labor group.

President Gompers asked permission for the labor group to withdraw for a private session.

Following the reading, a resolution was introduced by Representative Sparzo asking the conference to vote to assure the president that it would not adjourn until it had accomplished its task.

The situation was tense as the delegates left the hall for a recess. The president in the first paragraph of his message described the communication as a "word of very solemn appeal to you as Americans."

Secretary Lane then called the public and employers group into session and adjourned until 2:30 p. m.

President Wilson today sought information on the state of affairs in the industrial conference, it was learned at the white house.

Mrs. Wilson telephoned to Secretary Tumulty and obtained a full report from him. The president will keep in close touch with all proceedings in the hope to prevent a dissolution of the conference.

Should the session end now conditions will be worse than if the conference never had been summoned, is the opinion of administration officials today.

Radicalism will have been

Capt. and Mrs. J. A. Tench Have Returned From Eastern Congress of Salvation Army

REPORT MADE ON NEW FUND

Capt. and Mrs. J. A. Tench arrived home yesterday from attending the eastern congress of the Salvation Army in New York City. Capt. Tench today told of the wonderful accomplishments and growth of the Army during the war and described seeing Commander Evangeline Booth of the Salvation Army receive the Distinguished Service Medal from the United States government for exceptionally meritorious and distinguished service during the war. The resolution to confer this honor on Commander Booth was introduced in the senate by Senator James E. Watson of this city.

Capt. Tench said reports to the congress showed $14,000,000 had been collected in the eastern district alone to carry forward the work of the Army and that shortly a campaign would be started to raise $7,000,000 in the western division. The Army began its war work with a fund of $25,000 which was later augmented by $100,000 sent from headquarters in England.

Extinguishes Blaze When John Ken-

Fire Tuesday Night

FIRE IN CIRCLEVILLE TODAY

The chemical truck from the fire station answered an alarm last night about ten o'clock in response to a call from John Kennedy, stating that his automobile was on fire. The car was in Second street, between Harrison and Morgan streets, and by use of chemicals it was saved, with about ten dollars damage resulting. The oil caught fire and had not the department been summoned, a total loss would have resulted. Last Saturday night two machines were totally destroyed in Knightstown because of the lack of chemicals.

This morning about eight o'clock the chemical truck answered a call from Roll Richey, living in Circleville. Fire from a defective flue, set the roof on fire, but it was quickly extinguished by the use of chemicals. The house is owned by John Boyd, and the damage did not exceed $25.00.

SHOWS VALUE OF WORK TO BE DONE

Dr. W. A. Millis in Informal Talk
Points out Need of What Roosevelt Association Will Do

TO CURE WAVE OF RADICALISM

Most of Fund During Campaign Will be Devoted to Endowing a Foundation

Not enough people attended the Roosevelt memorial campaign meeting at the Graham Annex auditorium last night to warrant the speaker, W. A. Millis, president of Hanover college, in making a speech, and the meeting was called off after Dr. Millis waited almost an hour for an audience to gather.

In an informal talk, however, Mr. Millis pointed out the great need of the work which the Roosevelt Memorial association "will accomplish with the bulk of the fund which is being raised throughout the nation this week.

Leaders of the campaign in the county were not discouraged this morning, however, due to the lack of interest shown last night, because some encouraging reports have been received from the out townships to indicate that the same lethargy does not exist there as in Rushville.

Township chairmen were urged today to get their workers together and start the canvass, where active solicitation had not already been done, so as to close the campaign this week. It is also requested by school officials that every school child be given the opportunity to contribute his or her mite. All contributors will be recognized by the association in some way.

As Dr. Millis pointed out last night, a very small portion of the fund to be raised will be used for building a memorial, but the most of it will be used to endow a Roosevelt Foundation which will carry on the great work which Roosevelt stood for so fearlessly during his life—a stronger and better Americanism. This institution will be devoted to work among immigrants so as to teach the foreigner just come to the shores of the United States the ideals for which the American people stand and the value of their institutions.

Dr. Millis said that he was alarmed at the wave of radicalism which is sweeping the country. He

PAYS $4 TO GET AUTOMOBILE BACK

Jesse Fisher of Near Falmouth
Leaves Car in East 11th Street
When He Runs Out of Oil

THE POLICE ARE NOTIFIED

The police this morning found a Ford touring car in the vicinity of Mrs. Pete Johnson's home, in East Eleventh street, and Chief of Police Wilfong took the machine in charge, and this afternoon Jesse Fisher, son of A. C. Fisher of near Falmouth, called for it, after satisfying Mayor Irvin that it was his property.

According to Fisher, he started home last night and ran out of oil and left the car, with the intention of coming after it this morning. The police were notified his morning by neighbors living in that part of town and the machine was taken in charge. A little difficulty arose between Fisher and Mayor Irvin, as a charge of $4.00 was made for "capturing" the car. Irvin explained that a garageman was sent for it. After paying the money, Fisher was allowed to get his car out of the garage.

CORN PRICES FALL WITH HOG MARKET

Prediction is Made That This Year's
Corn Crop Will Not Equal
Half Price Last Year's

HOGS DROP AGAIN TODAY

Last Year's Corn Was $2.00 But
Now Will Not Bring $1.20 a Bu-
shel—$8.00 Hogs Expected

The after effects of the rapid decline of the hog market are being discussed freely by farmers here. One of the things bound to result is that this year's corn crop will be worth no more than half as much as last year's crop because many are now predicting that it will not sell for more than a dollar where corn less than a year ago was bringing $2 a bushel.

Some new corn has already been sold in the field for as low as $1 a bushel and other corn has brought $1.25 in the field. The price of old corn is going down as an aftermath of the falling hog market, and farmers estimated today that it would not bring any more than $1.20 on the local market, if that much.

Hogs continued on the downward trend today. The market opened off 25 cents in Indianapolis and 75 cents under yesterday's closing price in Chicago. A week ago stock buyers and others who have been watching the market were talking of the possibility of $10 hogs, but now they have lowered their figure and say that hogs will be $8 before January 1, if not sooner.

One thing is certain—that fewer hogs are going to be fed in Rush county this winter than has been the case in many a year because farmers are not going to risk their work and money, they say, when there is no chance of the market being stable.

It is regretted that the hog market should take such a tumble at this time when Rush county will produce the biggest crop of corn in many years. In spite of what farmers regarded as handicaps this fall, the corn crop is turning out in splendid shape. Some fields are going to make as high as sixty bushels to the acre, it is estimated.

Corn husking is in full swing this week and the yields are beyond all the expectations of the farmers. Late last summer the story was going the rounds that the corn would

ACCUSED OF PASSING A STANDING HACK

Maurice Kirk Was to be Arraigned
This Afternoon For Violating
State Law

DENIES THAT HE IS GUILTY

Another arrest has been made for the violation of the new law pertaining to motor vehicles passing a school hack while loading or discharging school children, and Maurice Kirk was scheduled to appear in Squire Stech's court this afternoon on charges filed against him by Prosecutor Stevens. The affidavit alleges that Kirk violated the law on October 10, when he passed, and narrowly missed hitting a school girl, while the motor truck was loading.

Kirk, who lives southwest of Rushville, denies the charge it is said, but evidence obtained both by the driver and school teacher maintains the number of the automobile was taken, and the school girl stated that she knew the owner. The number as taken by the two persons, was sent to the secretary of state in order to confirm the girl's testimony. Township trustees are heartily in favor of the new law, and it is the intention of all of them to enforce it to the letter.

CITY HAS SMALL SUPPLY OF COAL

Supt. Mahin Reports to Council
There is Enough to Run Plant
Three and Half Weeks

SEVERAL LOADS CANCELLED

Action Taken Because of Fire in
Coal Pile—Complaints Made
About Third Street

The city council meet in a short business session last night, as there was not much of importance that came before the regular meeting. The usual claims were allowed and the financial condition of the city treasury was reported, and Superintendent Mahin stated that the work of building the addition to the water and light plant was progressing very well, considering the shortage of labor.

A petition was presented to the council by J. C. Walker, asking that he be given permission to move a small building formerly used as an office for the Pinnell-Tompkins Lumber Company, in First street, to 402 North Perkins streets. The council instructed the city clerk to issue a permit, after a thousand dollar bond was given. The I. & C. Traction company agreed to cut their trolley wires while the house was being moved.

W. T. Allen of the Central Union Telephone company appeared before the council, asking that the company be permitted to move its poles and wires in the west part of Rushville from the Shelbyville pike at Coles lane, north to an alley and then over to Spencer street, and then back to the Shelbyville pike, on First street. He stated that the city had a transformer on a pole east of Hodges branch which interfered with their lines, and made a noise on the wire. He also said that by making the small change it would eliminate a great deal of tree trouble.

Mr. Allen pointed out to the council that Rushville would benefit by the change as the service would be more distinct between here and Indianapolis. The council however refused to consider the petition.

Councilman Manzy said that new steam header would have to be purchased at the water and light plant, and the council decided to advertise for bids. The piece of machinery will cost between $1,500 and $2,000 and bids will be received on November 18.

Superintendent Mahin was asked as to the amount of coal which the plant had on hand, and he told the council that the supply would last about three and a half weeks. The plant employes have been fighting a fire in the coal pile, and have it now under control, but such coal deteriorates about 50 percent in value. The subject was brought up on account of the threatened coal strike which is scheduled for November 1. Several car loads of coal were cancelled last week on account of the fire.

The brick paving which is now nearing completion in Third street, was the cause of a discussion for a

His extradition will not be demanded however, until all nations have signed the peace treaty, Bonar Law said.

People Called to See If True

Mrs. Tindal's Recovery Astonished Those Who Knew Her Condition.

"My recovery since taking Tanlac has been so remarkable that many people who heard about it didn't believe it, and called on me to see if it was true," was the statement made by Mrs. Melvin Tindal of Glasford, Illinois, when she called at Sutcliffe & Case's Drug Store, in Peoria, Ill., a few days ago.

"I couldn't get Tanlac in Glasford, and I've come twenty miles over here to Peoria to get it," continued Mrs. Tindal. "I'm as well and happy as when I was a girl, and my work taking care of five children and a seven-room house is just like play for me now."

"Not a single day passed for twelve years that I didn't suffer. I had stomach trouble so bad that nearly everything I would eat soured on my stomach and caused gas to form and rise up around my heart so I thought it was going to stop my heart. I suffered intense pain from cramps in my stomach, and after every meal I would belch for hours. I fell off in weight until I looked like a skeleton almost and could hardly drag myself around. I was actually ashamed of my appearance. I was so nervous that life was a burden to me for just any little noise out of the ordinary almost drove me frantic. I seldom had a good night's sleep, and often I was disturbed with bad dreams. About every other day I had an awful nervous headache, and my head would ache and throb terribly, and I would stagger if I tried to get up and walk across the room. I tried every known treatment, and I got so I thought it was no need to take any more medicine for it didn't do me a particle of good."

"But I'm thankful for a good friend of mine and for Tanlac, for at last I was shown the right road to recovery, and I'm pointing out this road to other people, and several already have gone that way and found health, too. I can hardly believe it when I look at myself—the way this Tanlac had helped me has been nothing short of remarkable. I'm enjoying health now, after twelve years of misery and I give Tanlac the whole credit. I've taken eight bottles and never have a sign of stomach trouble, indigestion, or with gas forming and affecting my heart. My nerves are calm, and those nervous headaches have stopped troubling me. My appetite is wonderful. I eat just anything I want and have gained twenty-four pounds. I sleep like a child and when I get up I feel fine. I simply don't know what it is to have an ache or pain, and I tell you I'm happy to be that way. Tanlac is the most wonderful thing in the world, and I want you to publish this statement and let the people know what this medicine will do."

Tanlac is sold in Rushville by F. B. Johnson & Co.; in Milroy by Dallas Copper; in Manilla by Geo. J. Inlow, and Arlington by Mrs. L. T. Davis.—(Adv.)

CONGRESS MAY CALL A FARMER CONFERENCE

Representative Dickinson Says Industrial Men Were Called In, But Farmers Were Neglected

INCLUDES ENTIRE FARM LIFE

Washington, Oct. 22.—Representative Dickinson of Iowa has introduced a resolution in the House requesting the President to call an agricultural conference in view of the fact that the industrial conference recently arranged in Washington by call of the President does not include the agricultural interests and the various elements of the country most concerned in agricultural production, including the consumers.

The resolution of Mr. Dickinson is a broad one and calls for a gathering which would be representative of the great agricultural interests of the country, of farm labor, of food producers and manufacturers of all kinds, and of consumers. The resolution sets forth a number of the reasons why such a conference is important and emphasizes the rapidly diminishing food supply of the country, the dwindling supply of farm labor and the movement of the population from the farms to the cities. It is Mr. Dickinson's idea not only that the grain raisers of the country should be represented but the stock raisers, cotton farmers and all the leading branches of the agricultural industry.

SAFEST METHOD IS NEW JAIL RULES RECEIVED HERE

Government Recognizes the Value of Tuberculin Vaccine in Immunizing Cattle

CAMPAIGN ON IN INDIANA

State Sanitary Board Will Co-operate With Agricultural Department to Fight Tuberculosis

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 22.—The finding of the United States Department of Agriculture that the application of tuberculin serum is the surest and safest method known of determining the existence of tuberculosis in cattle, is being pointed out by Dr. E. E. Northrup, state veterinarian, as further support of the Indiana Live Stock Sanitary Board's campaign for the eradication of tuberculosis among Indiana cattle, through the application of this test by trained and skilled operators.

Dr. Northrup points out that the existence of tuberculosis in cattle cannot be determined by the naked eye, except when the disease has reached the advanced and aggravated stages. A physical examination cannot go much further than a survey which might be deceptive. Dr. Northrup states. Many fine herds have been destroyed because of the undetected presence of a diseased animal whose condition might have been ascertained by the application of the tuberculin test, but failure to use such test permitted the spread of the disease and the destruction of the herd; in addition to the menace to the health of all who use milk products from these animals.

The Federal Government, through the Department of Agriculture, is co-operating with the Indiana Live Stock Sanitary Board in its effort to eradicate tuberculosis in cattle, through the application of the tuberculin test, and it is urging upon live stock men and herd owners the importance of protecting their animals against the spread of the disease, before it has infected the entire farm.

VENEREAL DISEASES CAUSE MUCH WASTAGE

Attention of Taxpayers Called to Fact That State is Spending $5,668,451.11 Per Year

PLAN CAMPAIGN FOR CONTROL

Attention of manufacturers, employers, public utility operators and other large tax payers is called to the fact that the state of Indiana is spending for the care of delinquents, abnormal paupers, criminals and insane, $5,668,451.11 per year or approximately $18,000 a day, and that "the venereal diseases are one of the principal causes of this wastage" is asked in a circular issued today by the Indiana State Board of Health. The board offers for distribution among working people a brief statement of the facts relative to its campaign for the control and eradication of the venereal diseases, and offers this statement, in quantities, free.

"One of the prime essentials of this campaign is the thorough enlightenment of the masses of the people as to the real facts," says the board's letter to the employers.

The object of the statement according to the letter, is to reach every mature person in the state. The appeal is directed both to those who may be victims of the disease as well as those who are called upon to contribute through taxes to the support of such institutional care as is required for the victims of the diseases.

State Board of Charities Issue Orders Whereby Charges Must be Filed to Hold Prisoner

MUST BATHE EVERY WEEK

Sheriff Must Keep Jail Inspected and Give 3 Meals—Tramps Can't be Held Overnight

In the future, officers of the law, railroad detectives and others must prefer charges against men they incarcerate in county jails.

This is a new ruling by the Board of State Charities, and notices were sent Sheriff Jones to this effect this morning, who in turn posted them and also distributed them to parties concerned.

In the past frequently a man was thrown into jail for the night and then when no charges were pressed against him, was released the following morning. The new regulations concerning the jails of Indiana, prohibit this. The jail rules as sent to Sheriff Jones are as follows:

Every person shall bathe when admitted and weekly thereafter.

Marking, defacing or littering the cells, walls or corridors, or injuring or destroying the jail property is prohibited.

Prisoners shall make their own beds, keep clean their cells, and perform such duties in taking care of the jail and keeping it clean and in order as may be assigned them.

Meals shall be served the prisoners at suitable and regular hours, three times a day.

The sheriff shall inspect the jail at least once every day, and shall see that it is kept clean and sanitary.

There shall be complete sex separation. Prisoners shall be classified and separated so far as the jails will admit.

No tramps or other persons shall be received without due form of law.

Squibb's Pure Spices

In the popular mind the sole value of spices lies in their property of imparting an agreeable flavor to food. Aside, however, from this well known virtue, spices are of great dietetic importance, so that their selection with a view of obtaining them of full strength and of a high quality deserves careful attention.

SQUIBB'S SPICES are selected by a botanical expert, and at once ground in special spice mills, great care being taken to prevent loss of the volatile oils upon which their value depends. Being absolutely pure and of unusual strength, they are economical to use, a small quantity going a great way.

We carry a complete line of these absolutely pure powdered spices, comprising: Allspice, Cinnamon, Cloves, Ginger, Mustard, Nutmeg, Paprika and Pepper. They are all put up in air-tight sifter-top cans, convenient for table use. Owing to their high quality they are used by discriminating people everywhere. A trial will convince you of their general excellence.

DEMOCRACY COMES HIGH IN GERMANY
Country is Learning That Elections are Costly Although She Has no Campaign Expense
EXPENSES TO BE INCREASED.

Berlin (By Mail).—Democracy comes fairly high in Germany. While she has no campaign expense laws like America, she is already learning that elections are costly as evidenced by a compilation of the costs for the national assembly and Prussian land assembly elections some months back. The expense against the government was more than 1,000,000 marks, while to the parties involved the expense was more than 6,000,000 marks.
These expenses are likely to be vastly increased when the elections for the Reichstag occur. So far, no definite dates have been set for these, but the present regime is striving hard to get the election postponed to next spring on the theory that elections this fall (or winter) would only make for fresh unrest.
Both the right and the left are massing funds, however, so as to make a strong campaign against the moderate regime, and the new tests will furnish one of the bitterest campaigns ever waged in Europe.

3 Million Dollars but-- It Bought MUSIC
No finer example of courage is known to the world of science than Thomas A. Edison's work in perfecting the phonograph. The skeptics rose in full chorus when he proposed a better phonograph, —an instrument "that could produce music as human as the artists who first gave it utterance."
Mr. Edison's experiments exhausted the entire field of research in sound reproduction. He built and rebuilt until his final, perfected model cost him Three Million Dollars.
And the result?
Ask some one who attended the Amy Ellerman-Fleming Sisters recital Friday Evening, October 3. There was the public proof. Miss Ellerman sang in comparison with the RE-CREATION of her voice by the New Edison. The Fleming Sisters Instrumental Trio played in comparison with the RE-CREATION of their art by the New Edison. And no one could distinguish the living art from its RE-CREATION.
The New Edison
"The Phonograph with a Soul"
If you love music, you will agree with Friday's (Oct. 3) enthusiastic audience:—The New Edison represents Three Million Dollars well spent.
The soul of song is cheap at any price. Yet is now brought within reach of your pocketbook. The instrument used in Friday's (Oct. 3) conclusive test is a duplicate of Mr. Edison's Three Million Dollar Model. It sells for $285 (in Canada, $431).

Roosevelt's Americanism

Theodore Roosevelt, in whose memory a state-wide Americanization week is being observed this week, was a most insistent advocate of "one country, one language, one flag." He knew the perils of our age old policy in reference to foreigners. He realized that no alien could become a worth while 100 per cent American until he could understand our spoken word, and read our daily newspapers and our public school books. That was why he was so ardent in his advocacy of any plan that would serve to weld the immigrant to the land of his adoption. For here in he felt, lay the secret of a broader, deeper devotion to the ideals for which this government was established.

"Who cares enough about it to fight for a cogwheel boarding house?" repeatedly asked Roosevelt, after having compared the nation to a big family, for whose fireside each and every member was at all times ready to repel invasion, to resent insult, and whose ties, he said, were the ties that must also bind together the people of America.

In connection with the disturbances in the Calumet district in northern Indiana, it is reported that steel workers on strike had been in America six years and could not speak nor understand a word of English. How naturally he drifted into the following of the Bolsheviks and became an enemy to society, a non-respecter of law and order.

It is the present duty of this government to see to it that every immigrant lands on our shores is given opportunity to familiarize himself with our language and taught the meaning of our institutions, unless he is willing to avail himself of these he should be sent back to the land from which he came.

Americanization week in Indiana should mark the beginning of a new era and a more enlightened attitude toward those who are new among us, or who have been permitted to absorb the pernicious doctrine of traitors to government and enemies to society.

New and Bright Yarns That Will Tickle You and Will be Relished by Your Friends When You Repeat Them.

Barring telephone operators and information clerks, elevator boys are asked more useless questions than any other class. This in spite of the signs requesting passengers to refrain from conversing with them. A fussy old lady, carrying the troubles of the world, recently entered an elevator in a big office building in New York. It was near the close of a trying day.

"Don't you ever feel sick going up and down like this all day long?" was her opening remark. "Yes'm," the boy replied. "Is it the motion going down?" she queried. "No'm," he managed to get rid of. "How strange!" she pondered. "Oh, then it's the motion going up?" "No'm, it ain't, neither," with petulance. The car was brought to a sudden halt and the door banged open for her exit. "Then what is it, my good boy?" she inquired as she stepped from the elevator.

"Answerin' questions," he snapped at her as the door clattered between them.

Apocryph The Sugar Shortage

Not knowing whether you will publish this communication or not, will risk a few lines, because as Uncle Green Wilson used to say, "It is time for every man, woman and child to stand up and say something in meeting."

I just finished reading what was said in yesterday's Republican on the sugar question and what will be said in this article will be based on actual experience of the writer.

There should be no shortage of sugar at this time in this country, for the reason, as you know, that about three weeks since, one of the officials of the Cuban government was in the city of Washington on official business and while there made this statement: "The warehouses in Cuba are at the bursting point, being filled with sugar, about all of which was owned by the American Refining Company. And the excuse of the company was they could not get ships to transport the sugar to this country."

The writer has had more or less experience in the manufacture of sugar from beets for the last eighteen years. During these years was general manager in building and running a factory in the state of Michigan and during my experience have found the American Sugar Refining Company to be the most damnable trust on earth. It controls every pound of sugar produced in and shipped in this country and sets the price of it to the wholesalers and the jobbers all over the United States.

No stockholder in any of the sugar factories in this country can buy a pound of sugar from any factory which his money helped to build.

There is not even a jobber or wholesaler in this country can go to Cuba and buy a barrel of sugar, not even a pound. Sugar producers in Cuba sell to the American Sugar Refining Company all the sugar that comes to this country from the Island and bind themselves to sell to no others in this country.

The sale and management of the sale of all the sugar from beets and cane in this country is under the control of Henry Oxnard of California and he is under the absolute and iron bound control of this damnable sugar trust.

Beet sugar can be manufactured in this country and sold at a good profit to the manufacturer at a few cents a pound. Sixteen sugar factories in Michigan cost $5,500,000. Stockholders of these sixteen factories have been getting 16 1/2 to 17 1/2 percent on $25,500,000 for the last fifteen years.

We all had hopes that when the Republican party got control of the House and Senate relief would come to us all, but our hope has been blasted. Vilification and abuse never get men anywhere, political potrooms and demagogues have always and will always and ought always disrupt any party as long as the people elect none but politicians to office.

People are suffering all over the country while the senate is playing politics. We want business, we want it now, we should make demand for it now.

TRIES TO SETTLE CAR TURMOIL AT THE POLLS

Denver is Voting on Two Propositions That May Relieve and Decide Future Policy

SIX CENT FARE IS FAVORED

Denver, Colo. Oct. 22.—Turmoil over this city's street railway problem was to be settled in today's special election on two plans for fixing fares, the elastic fare plan and the service-at-cost scheme. Both specify an initial 6-cent fare with free transfers.

The people's choice is supposed to decide the future policy of the city council toward the street railway problem. A good sized vote was expected to be cast as interest in the question is general.

Under the service at cost plan the council would create a board of transportation control which would have control over expenditures and service by the street railway company.
Returns would be limited to a fixed percentage on the "fair" valuation of the railway property but no guarantee to stockholders is provided for. Under the service-at-cost plan fares would start at six cents but might be raised or lowered according to the relation of the company's revenue and expenses. If the company lowered fares a small additional earning on the valuation would be allowed. The cost scheme also authorizes the people to buy the plant at any time they vote to do so.

The elastic 6-cent fare plan provides that whenever the present wage schedule for employes is changed the rate of car fare should be changed accordingly.

Amusements

Dorothy Dalton Here Tonight

Screen fans who remember the delight with which they viewed Dorothy Dalton in such triumphs of screen art as "Extravagance",
"Other Men's Wives", and "Hard Boiled" will welcome the news that Miss Dalton is to appear in another Paramount-Artcraft picture, "The Market of Souls", at the Princess Theatre tonight. The story is by John Lynch. Joseph DeGrasse was the director.

In "The Market of Souls", Miss
Dalton plays the part of Helen Armes, a country girl who has been educated as a trained nurse and comes to New York to follow her chosen profession. Her introduction to the gay life of the metropolis is at a New Year's Eve revel at a fashionable restaurant—a scene which required the use of hundreds of extras and is one of the most lavish ever shown on the screen.
There Helen meets Lyle and Temple
Bane, two brothers as wide apart in character as the poles. Lyle, the unscrupulous one, wants her for her beauty and attempts to win her by force. In a quarrel Temple is blinded by Lyle. Matters finally adjust themselves in a manner that is as startling as it is gratifying.

Mystery Picture at Mystic

What is the unknown quantity?
Young folks in school and their elders who have not forgotten, will answer X, the thing one has to use to solve a problem in algebra.

What is the unknown quantity that solves the greatest of all life's problems? The elusive, alluring, mysterious X, without which nothing in life is worth the while?

The answer is found in the Corinne Griffith picture, "The Unknown Quantity," which will be seen in the Mystic theater today. O. Henry wrote the story from which the picture is adapted and he came as near to human nature as any writer of his day.

Miss Griffith, Vitaphone star, has a role of striking appeal in this feature. She is the daughter of a baker who was ruined and sent to prison as the result of a corner in flour.
The son of the man who engineered the corner sought to make restitution to her with his millions, but she spurned both him and his wealth.

She hated him. He loved her. He applied the Unknown Quantity to the problem of changing her hate to affection. It is a fascinating theme and makes a fascinating photoplay, in which all the atmosphere of O.

Henry's works is maintained by Director Thomas R. Mills. In the supporting cast are Huntley Gordon, H. Davenport, Jack Ridgway, Frederick Buckley and Jack McLean.

The thirteenth episode of "Elmo
The Mighty," entitled "Into the Chasm," will be shown at the Mystic tomorrow. In addition there will be a two-reel western "Gun Law," in which Peter Morrison and Helen Gibson are starred, and a Lyons and Moran star comedy, "Missing Husbands."

ALL OTHERS MUST PAY FEE

Drivers of motor hacks engaged children for this service, collecting instead from the township, and who also do not use their motor cars for taxi service, will not be required to cording to a new ruling by William Elder collector of internal revenue for the district of Indiana, in a letter this morning to County Superintendent J. R. Crawley.

Mr. Elder's letter regarding the matter, follows:

"Please be advised that where auto trucks are used for the transportation of school children and the operation of which is paid for by the township trustee and no fee is collected from the children, there will not be any license required.

However, if the party operating the truck for revenue receives compensation for transporting persons, then he will be required to pay the license and should apply for form 732 on which to disclose his liability."

TO achieve such distinction and varied style and not depart from the simplicity that continues to govern Lady Fashion denotes the finest art of tailoring and you'll view it skillfully incorporated into our suits for fall.

It may be only in the placing of buttons, the line or curve of a collar, a seam that has some novel treatment—but each provides the happy expression of newness and something different that is sought by all women.

We particularly ask you to critically examine the quality of the cloths and the unmistakable tailoring.

dressed in blue satin, and the best man, Arthur Berger of Connersville, cousin of the bridegroom.

Miss Coyne was gowned in a white georgette over white satin and wore a wedding veil caught in cap effect with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of brides roses.

At the close of the nuptial high Mass Miss Henrietta Talbert of Morristown sang "For You and You Only."

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was given at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Coyne, in North Sexton street. The bride's table was beautifully decorated in a French basket of white roses and a miniature bride and the smaller tables were similarly decorated. The out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Buheit and daughters Anna and Henrietta, of Indianapolis; Mr. and Mrs. Will Welsh and family, Samuel Kerr, Ambrose Kerr, Miss Margaret Kerr, Mrs. Pauline Kenan and Henry Berger and son Arthur and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Strack all of Connersville; Miss Katherine Coyne of Indianapolis, and Mrs. Al T. Simms, of Cincinnati.

Immediately following the breakfast the couple left on a short motor trip, the bride being dressed in a blue suit with hat and shoes to match. Upon their return they will be at home to their many friends in West Tenth street.

Mrs. Miller is well known in this city, having been a clerk in the Mauzy Company store for several years. The bridegroom is a prominent farmer of this county.

BUSINESSMEN OF 5 NATIONS MEETING

International Conference is Held by Men From France, Belgium, England, Italy and U. S.

AUSPICES U. S. C. OF C.

Trade Relations and Methods of Financing European Countries is Main Theme.

(By United Press.)

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 22.—Businessmen of five nations met here today, bringing together in an international conference representatives of the governments and industries under auspices of the United States Chamber of Commerce. Delegations from France, Belgium, England and Italy comprised the foreign guests.

Working out plans for effective financing of European countries for development of trade relations between the hemispheres are the primary reasons for the meeting, according to David A. Skinner, assistant secretary of the Chamber.

Among the delegates from the European nations are: Giugicimo Marconi, father of the wireless telegraph; inventor Salvatore Tagiavia, mayor of Palermo, Italy; M. Va de Vyvere, Belgian minister of state; E. Van der Vel, president of Louvain University; Pellorin de la Touche president of the Compagnie Generale Transatlantique; Jean Clement, representing the French Minister of Commerce; Marshall Stevens member of the British parliament, and Bailie J. King, Glasgow, chairman of the National Light Castings association.

Commenting on the importance of the convention, Secretary Skinner said: "American manufacturers and financiers are conscious of the fact that it is up to the business men of America to provide an effective working plan for capitalizing the war-stricken allied countries of Europe, which, after all, is the great market of this country."

"It is remarkable to note the tremendous interest which has been aroused by this international conference. Every trade and industry in the United States is sending its keenest representatives. American business and financiers are realizing that their future depends largely on the speedy rehabilitation of Europe. With the prospect of an early ratification of the peace treaty there is now at hand great need for a system of financing European countries."

Secretary Skinner gave out the following list of foreign delegates who will attend the conference:

BRITISH DELEGATION: Sir Arthur Shirley Benn, M. P. former member of the London Common Council, Chairman; Marshall Stevens, M. P., one of the founders of the Manchester Ship Canal, its first manager, and an authority on traffic, railways, dock and canals; Frank W. Moore, of Moore, Eady & Murcott Goode, of Leicester; Bailie John King, Chairman National Light Castings Associations, Glasgow; the Hon. J. G. Jenkins, former Premier of South Australia, born in Pennsylvania; Barton Kent of G. B. Kent & Sons, Ltd., Secretary.

FRENCH DELEGATIONS: Paul Schneider, President of the Grosot Works, President of the Mission; Baron Du Marais, Vice President and Director of the Credit Lyonnais, representing the banking interests, Vice President; Alexander Louis Tirman, Councillor of State, who represented France at the San Francisco Exposition; Mr. Waddington Waddington Sons & Co., representing the textile industry; Mr. Homberg, formerly Director of the Societe Generals; Mr. Roche, President of a syndicate representing the chemical industry; Mr. Julian Potin, President of the Potin Cie, wholesale grocer, representing food interests; M. Dolleaux, representing the press; Pellorin de La Touche, President of the Compagnie Generale Transatlantique; M. Prevet, President of the Union of Wholesale Food Syndicates, and President of a large packing and canning company; Jean Clement, representing the Minister of Commerce; M. Mazot, Secretary General; M. Have milk as you want it, without shortage or waste. Have a milk that is germless and safe. Have cream when you want it and milk when you want it without two separate supplies. That's what we offer in Van Camp's Milk.

Only a Few Can Get It

Milk like Van Camp's can never be produced for all. So we select localities and supply the grocers there. Then we announce it to the homes in those sections. This city is now supplied.

an equal part of water and you have a rich milk for drinking. Dilute as you wish for cooking.

Safety Above All

This is sterilized milk, utterly germ-free. The dangers which lurk in bottled milk are absent.

It is economical. It saves all waste. Keep small cans and large cans in the pantry and open what you wish. You will always have milk in plenty, yet never will have too much.

This is the modern method of milk supply. You will adopt it when you know Van Camp's.

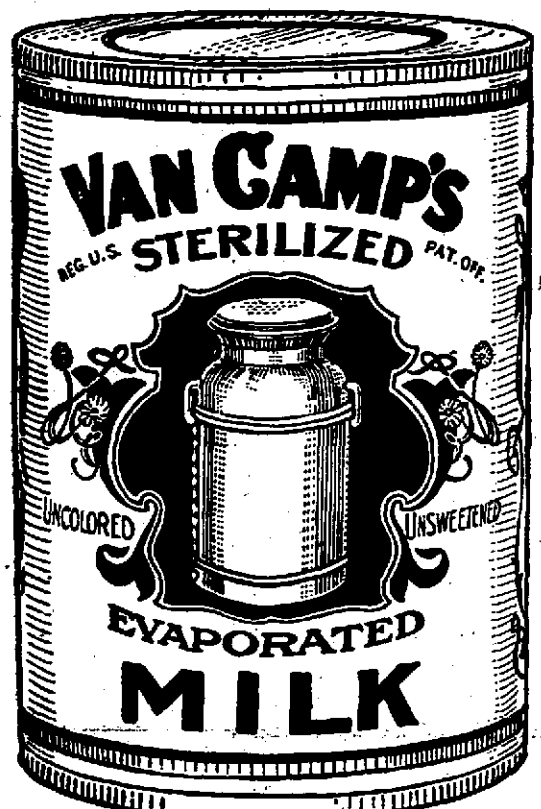

Compare it with bottled milk, or with other evaporated. Learn what we have done in 20 years to bring you perfect milk.

Van Camp's Milk comes from high-bred cows in seven great dairying districts. The cows are regularly inspected and kept in a sanitary way.

Close to each dairy we have a condensery. There the fresh milk is placed in a vacuum. Then low heat is applied until half of the water evaporates.

The result is a milk as thick as thick cream. It is twice as rich in butter fat as ordinary milk.

You use it as cream for your coffee. You dilute it somewhat for your cereals. Add

NO PROGRESS WITHOUT ORDER, SAYS GOODRICH

GOVERNOR PLEADS FOR ROOSEVELTIAN SQUARE DEAL AS SOCIAL SAFEGUARD.

By James P. Goodrich, Governor of Indiana.

Someone has said that if you would sing him the songs of a people he could write a history of that people. Equally well might it be said if you tell the story of the monuments and memorials of a people you record much of the character and history of that people. That is true of America. Washington, Lincoln, Roosevelt typify America and American life and American history with far greater clearness than all the written pages of the historian, and we do well to meet here and perfect for Indiana an organization that is to carry forward the work of erecting, not only some permanent, visible memorial to this great American, but carry forward into American life the things for which Theodore Roosevelt stood.

It has been said that Theodore Roosevelt was an aristocrat in one sense of the word, but there was typified in the life of this man the culture of the East, the aristocracy of the South and the free life of the West, as it was embodied in the life of no other American of our own or former times.

Class-Minded Man Dangerous.
There are abroad in American life today sinister influences that would tend to denationalize our people. Among these influences is one that would separate us into classes. To me there is no more dangerous man in America today than the class-minded man, the man who conceives American life as separated into classes and who would by his teaching undertake to array class against class and group against group. I have no criticism of any man who seeks to advance the interest of the particular group to which he belongs, provided he does not place the interests of that group above the national welfare.

I think there is no one single influence that tends to combat the idea of the class-minded man as the influence of the life and character of Theodore Roosevelt, who always stood for the "square deal." The capitalist and the laborer, the rich and the poor, the high and the low, stood alike before the impartial justice of his mind. The difficulty in our country today is that there is a feeling that the laws apply with unequal force to the different classes of citizens, that there is one law for those in power, those who have place and influence and wealth, and another law for those at the opposite end of our social and industrial life.

Law Must Be Upheld.
When the great Cardinal Richelieu lay dying one of the friends assembled around his bedside asked him what had been the secret of his power. He said: "Some say it is cunning, and call me a fox; others say it is courage, and call me a lion, but it is neither cunning nor courage, but justice that is the secret of my power." That was the thing above all others that appealed to the American people in the life of Theodore Roosevelt. They believed that they received at his hands a square deal.

We need to carry that ideal forward into American life if we are to combat the insidious work that is going on now in our country to array class against class, an attempt to teach people that they can advance the interest of their particular group as against the interests of the whole nation. We see this in the economic struggle that is going on between the working men and the capitalist class. And we must meet it, not by repression, not by force—although the law must be upheld—but by convincing everybody that at the hands of our government there will be meted out to everyone true and exact political and economic justice.

And so, when we carry on this work of establishing a permanent memorial to Theodore Roosevelt, by carrying forward in some form the ideals for which he stood in this country, we not only honor the memory of Theodore Roosevelt, but we contribute in the largest possible way to the future progress of the nation.

BRITISH PARLIAMENT REASSEMBLED TODAY

Irish Question is on the List of Policies for an Early Government Statement

IT WILL BE A BUSY SESSION.

(By United Press.)

London, Oct. 22.—Parliament re-assembled today after a two months vacation, and the opposing parties lined up for a strenuous fall session. Questioners were busy early and the occupants of the government "Front Bench" had a lively time at the hands of members who were chiefly interested in the result of the government's "economy campaign", the North Russian war and Premier Lloyd George's Irish trade and labor policies.

The Irish question was on the list for an early government statement. Lloyd George having promised a new home rule bill this session, and in any event some action must be taken soon, otherwise the 1914 bill becomes a law six months after the conclusion of peace. Definite action with reference to the coal industry is also imperative, and a fresh statement on the cabinet's trade policy is due.

National expenditure questions were expected to bring Chancellor of the Exchequer Austen Chamberlain into the limelight; members being uneasy over unofficial reports that the much-vaunted government economy had only resulted in an annual saving of from $75,000,000 to $125,000,000 which on a daily expenditure of $10,000,000 in excess of revenue was held to be inadequate.

Speaker J. W. Lowther took the Chair in the House of Commons at 2:45 p. m.

Friday night was a decided success. The sum of $120 was cleared.

Dr. and Mrs. K. Ruddell of Indianapolis and Dr. and Mrs. J. Holloway, of Knightstown were the Sunday guests of Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Walther.

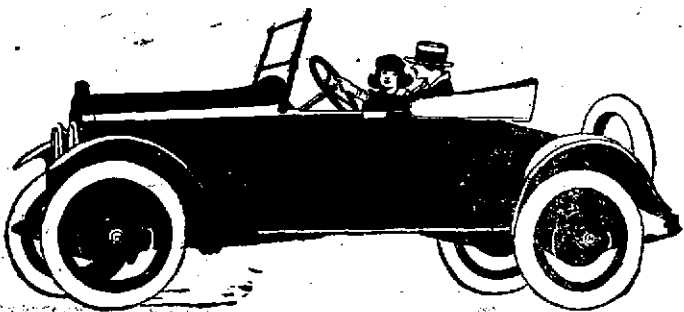

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Snider and family visited friends at Greensfork over Sunday.

The first number of the series of lectures given here for this winter will be held at the M. E. church Wednesday evening.

Miss Leora Wright entertained with a six o'clock dinner party Sunday, the Misses Clara Reese and Helena Hughes, Herman Moore, Francis Bilby and Roscoe Bean.

Miss Edna Ruff and Mrs. Russell Ruff are recovering from tonsillotomy operations.

"Buffalo Bill" got his sobriquet by killing buffaloes for laborers on the Kansas Pacific railway construction in 1857.

Hupmobile Roadster

Equaling the general family interest created by the touring car, the roadster receives particular attention from people seeking a "chummy" pleasure car or the salesman, business or professional man requiring efficient transportation. As an example of roadster construction answering the foregoing requirements the HUPMOBILE two passenger car is worthy of its type. When to this is added the Hupmobile chassis with its performance and satisfaction giving record the combination merits careful consideration.

OF INVENTION IS NECESSITY

Now is the time to buy manure spreaders. If my friends will look over my stock they will become convinced that I am practicing what I preach, "Buy Now." My liberal stock proves my position. If you will investigate the RUSHVILLE SPECIAL Spreader you will understand how every machine is helping to sell more of them.

You can't afford to wait for improvements, because this spreader is years ahead of anything else right now, and it is your misfortune if you fail to get the benefit of this spreader this year. Prices are not going to drop, and it is hard to make the RUSHVILLE SPECIAL Spreader any better. No argument for delay.

The conveyor cannot clog or slip under the load. Notice from the cut the swinging sections how they empty and clean themselves. Nothing can lodge on the lower conveyor. It goes straight through to the ground.

If you will come to the store and look inside of this box you will find every section is raised slightly above the one ahead of it, forming a SAW-TOOTH grip that moves the load. This is our FORCE-FEED. Fifteen years from now, after the Litchfield Patents have expired, every other kind of conveyor will be a thing of the past.

What other spreaders will be fifteen years from now, the RUSHVILLE SPECIAL Spreader really is TODAY. Fifteen years from now all spreaders will be using the Bull-Dog Cylinder, the No-Choke-Box—and a lot of our other exclusive features. I will tell you about these later. OUR SPREADER IS GUARANTEED FOR FIVE YEARS.

Big Lot of Hay Fever Jokes

Get Kentucky Man Says—"People Who Belong to Hay Fever Colony are Kidding Themselves."

Wouldn't Be Any Rose or Hay Fever if Simple Home Remedy Was Given a Chance.

"Yes, there's a real NINETY-NINE per cent effective remedy for hay or rose fever," frankly states a druggist in a prosperous Kentucky city. "But I don't expect anyone to believe me, because the treatment is so easy and the cost not worth mentioning."

"The annual crop of hay-fever jokes would be mighty scarce if people would get an ounce of Menthatholized Arine and by just adding water that has been boiled make a pint of liquid that will prove a real help to all who suffer."

"Many of my hay-fever friends tell me that by starting to gargle and sniff or spray the nostrils a few times a day the expected severe attack often fails to appear and in cases where it does show up it is very mild and does not annoy."

"The Better Class of Pharmacists" who dispense Menthatholized Arine say it will greatly modify any attack even when taken three or four days after hostilities begin."

Go to a real live druggist when you get ready to make a pint.

Attention!

The rapid introduction of farm electric plants during the past few years has brought with it the important question of service.

"Service," it should be understood, means the expert attention to his electric plant which the owner may never need but which he can have on short notice if he ever requires it.

The average farmer looks at an electric light and power plant as more than a mere piece of machinery. To him it is a means toward an end, and that end is the furnishing of complete and dependable electric service on his farm.

The farmer is not an electrician and he doesn't want to be one. He is experienced with machinery and he knows how to take care of it, but he also knows that the best machinery in the world sometimes needs expert attention and he wants to know that there's an experienced mechanic within reach to give his electric plant attention if it becomes necessary. In other words he expects "service."

There are these two main things to be considered in the purchase of a farm electric plant: In the first place there's the matter of other users' experiences. With the great increase in the use of electricity on the farm in the last few years, there is scarcely a community in the country where electric plants are not already in use. It is quite easy, therefore, for the prospective buyer to make inquiry among his neighbors as to the satisfaction they are receiving from their plants. Where a particular make of plant is giving good service to large numbers of users, it is evidence of good design and workmanship in its manufacture.

The other thing to be considered—and it is equally important—is the matter of local representation of the particular plant in question. If there is an established representative of a plant in the community, prompt "service," if it is ever needed, is assured. Such a representative is in a position to "take care" of his customers.

The average farmer is a good and careful buyer, and will doubtless take into consideration the things mentioned here. If he does he can be assured of enjoying continuous and dependable electric service in his home.

TO DISCUSS NEWS PRINT SITUATION

Shortage of Timber Also to be Subject of Tri-State Forestry Conference Opening Today

SESSIONS IN INDIANAPOLIS

Officials of Forest Service Will Show Three States Face Exhaustion of Woodlands

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 22.—National interests were represented at the sessions of the Tri-State Forestry conference which opened here today for two days.

Discussion of the news-print situation and the shortage of timber, announced as the themes, brought delegates from all parts of the country. Governors Lowden of Illinois, Goodrich of Indiana and Cox of Ohio yesterday assured President Charles L. Pack that their states will be well represented.

Among the speakers were to be Prof. H. H. Chapman of Yale university, Dr. Wilson Compton, Chicago, secretary of the National Lumber Manufacturers Association; P. S. Ridsdale, secretary of the American Forestry Association; C. C. Pettis, superintendent of New York state forests and I. C. Williams, deputy forestry commissioner of Pennsylvania.

Richard Lieber, director of the department of conservation of Indiana, will be in general charge of the conference.

The importance of the conference to the people of Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, is strikingly shown by facts that will be presented by officials of the Forest Service of the United States Department of Agriculture. These officials believe that unless adequate measures are adopted, the woodlands of three states will eventually be practically exhausted. The states will be urged to join in the national program of forest conservation that is being formulated to meet needs and conditions in every section of the country.

Lumber production in Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois has greatly declined in the last twenty years. In 1899 Indiana and Ohio each produced about a billion board feet of lumber. In 1918 each produced only about one-fourth of a billion board feet. In 1909 Illinois produced 375,000,000 board feet; but in 1918 the output had declined to 50,000,000 board feet. Much of the decrease is due to the fact that clearing for farming purposes was going on in 1909, but still it is not believed that the decrease in production should be as great as in the figures given.

Despite the inroads that have been made on the timber, each of the three states still has a large area—about 3,000,000 acres each—in farm wood lands. This represents between 10 and 15 per cent of the total farm area.

The logical thing to do, the federal officials believe, is to adopt such measures, in connection with a comprehensive national program of forestry, that the remaining woodlands will not be used up without provision for their reproduction and perpetuation, and to restore some, at least, of the timber that stood on the lands in the hilly and rougher sections that now are bare. There are considerable areas of such lands, unsuited for farming or other uses, that can be well placed under timber, and thus become a part of the national effort that is just getting well under way with the aim of preventing the United States from experiencing exhaustion of important domestic supplies of lumber and pulp-wood.

What has been done already in the formulation of the national program will be explained by Lieut. Col. Henry S. Graves, Chief of the United States Forest Service. Colonel Graves has explained the plan, so far as it has been developed, at three inter-state conferences in the last two years at the country, and at a number of smaller conferences, and it has always met a favorable response. The study and part of this plan is that the federal and state governments shall join in making a survey of privately owned wood-

FLORENCE HOT BLAST

THE WORLD'S GREATEST HEATER

I WILL Give $5,000 to Any Stove Manufacturer or Dealer who will produce a soft coal stove outside the construction of the FLORENCE that will burn all the ingredients of soft coal and will heat the same amount of space with the same amount of fuel as the Florence. Signed,

J. B. HOWARD.

The above $5,000 offer has been made for the past twelve years every place where the Florence has been exhibited. It stands to reason that if any dealer or stove manufacturer could produce a stove that would do the work that the Florence will do they would not only have claimed the $5,000, but would have gotten the benefit of letting the people know what great stoves they have.

Why pay 25 per cent more for other makes of stoves which they claim are just as good as the FLORENCE HOT BLAST? Why buy other makes of stoves when you can save 25 to 35 per cent of your coal bill with a FLORENCE HOT BLAST?

lands from being wantonly wasted or destroyed. How the states can work with the federal government in this endeavor will be explained by J. G. Peters, chief of the state cooperation work of the Forest Service, who also plans to show the importance of the wood-using industries in Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois to the general prosperity of these states. For instance:

In Illinois—620,000 persons are employed in industries, 140,000 of them in wood-using industries; the capital invested in all industries is $2,000,000,000 and in wood-using industries, $40,000,000; the value of products of all industries is $2,250,000,000 and of wood-using industries, $320,000,000.

In Indiana—265,000 persons are employed in all industries, 70,000 in wood-using industries; capital in all industries $675,000,000, in wood-using industries, $175,000,000; annual products of all industries are worth $730,000,000 of wood-using industries, $140,000,000.

In Ohio—600,000 persons are employed in industries 90,000 in wood-using industries; capital in all industries, $1,675,000,000, in wood-using industries, $160,000,000; annual products of all industries are worth $1,785,000,000 of wood-using industries, $175,000,000.

Of course much of the raw material for the wood-using industries comes from outside the states. That in some measure, is due to the present state of exhaustion of the woodlands within the states. The condition will become more marked if measures are not taken for the preservation of the remaining woodlands. If a national program is not adopted, the wood-using industries eventually will find themselves far removed from the source of their raw materials. In the end, the wood-using industries would have to get their raw materials wholly from Canada or other foreign countries, or they would have to go out of business.

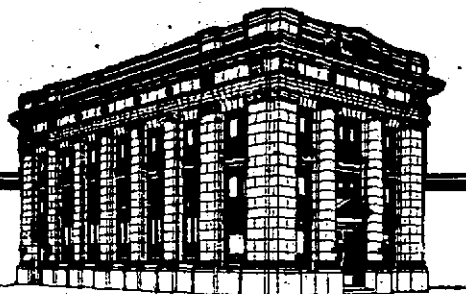

The conference in Indianapolis is regarded by the federal officials as one of the most important in the series at which views and suggestions will be exchanged in the formulation of the new national program.

And Stomach Worms are those that do not attach themselves to the intestines or stomach. Worms which attach themselves to the stomach or intestines are properly called "blood suckers" and nothing will expel the "blood sucking worm" after they are formed.

The Thorn Headed Worm is a "blood sucker" and nothing will expel them after they are formed. They have a mass of thorns or hooks about the head and not only attach themselves to the intestines but bury the head into and clear through the intestines. The THORN HEADED WORM can be positively prevented by feeding Acme Worm Bouncer from birth to maturity. The Wisconsin Agricultural College, Veterinary Department, in Poster Bulletin No. 3, July 1914, says: "Serum will not give good results if worms, indigestion and other diseases are present." This tells you that when your hogs are vaccinated that you need Acme Worm Bouncer just the same, in fact, more, for you have spent on your hogs 50 to 75 cents per head more than the man who has not vaccinated.
